Assistant Wildlife Officer(s) wanted.

*****

Due to unforeseen circumstances, I have been unable to get out and about much in my role as Wildlife Officer for the Trust in the past few months. This situation is likely to continue for a while longer.

It has therefore been suggested that one or more Assistant Wildlife Officers might be engaged to help carry on the important work of managing the wildlife-related issues affected by, or affecting, the restoration of the canal.

This role is voluntary, i.e. unpaid, and applicants would be subject to approval by the owners of the canal and the Trust.

No qualification or expertise is required (although wildlife knowledge/experience would obviously be welcome), but enthusiasm and commitment is essential.

Apart from helping with Wildlife issues along the canal, there is a need for some assistance in responding to on-line messages and enquiries and possibly helping to manage Trust stands at Open Weekends, Worstead Festival, Film Nights, and the like.

If you would be interested in helping, please contact the Trust in the first instance on our email of secretary@nwdct.org

Thank you.
